

U. S. ARMY AND MARINE CASUALTY TOTAL 51,759

General Pershing's Reports Include an Unusually Large Proportion of Pennsylvania's Fighting Men, New Jersey and Delaware Also on Honor Roll

Washington, Oct. 17.—Four hundred and twenty-nine names appear in the army casualty lists furnished by General Pershing last night and today, an addition to 196 suffered by the marine corps, making a total of 627. This number includes the killed and missing in action; those wounded severely and those who died of disease, accidents or other causes, and those in the hands of the enemy.

A feature of the appended list of army casualties is the large proportion of Pennsylvanians it includes; New Jersey and Delaware are also represented.

The number of officers and enlisted men of the army killed in action is 75, the number wounded in action is 200, severely wounded number 124, while 147 do not appear on the list as wounded to a degree as yet undetermined. Thirty-nine soldiers died of disease, 11 succumbed to their wounds, 3 were killed accidentally or by other causes and 10 are prisoners.

In the marine corps, of the 196 names reported, 100 were killed in action, 1 missing in action, 4 died of wounds received in action and 1 died of disease. The severely wounded in action number 54, those whose wounds are undetermined number 105, and 2 are in the hands of the enemy.
